73 long years are enough for their suffering.

It has been 73 long years of suffering. There have been initiatives to help the Palestinians, including awareness campaigns, humanitarian aids and rebuilding works, undertaken by many individuals and bodies, locally & internationally.

However, there is now an urgent need for a comprehensive and long-term solution for Palestine. To achieve this, we need to unite and garner support from all communities of the world. The world community must reject the apartheid state of Israel and strive for the establishment of the state of Palestine for all.
